TORONTO and TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 30, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Voxtur Analytics Corp. (TSXV: VXTR; OTCQB: VXTRF) ("Voxtur" or the "Company"), a technology company creating a more transparent and accessible real estate lending ecosystem, announced today its Unaudited Condensed Interim Consolidated Financial Statements for the three and six months ended June 30, 2021 and 2020, and the related Management's Discussion and Analysis ("MD&A"), are available at www.sedar.com and on the Company's website at <https://www.voxtur.com/investors>.

"We are thrilled to report another strong quarter and anticipate continuing this positive momentum into remainder of the fiscal year," stated Voxtur CEO, Jim Albertelli. "Our mission has always been to become the largest and most trusted provider of data, SaaS-based applications, and tech-enabled services in the property technology space. In a very short timeframe, our team has built the key foundational pieces and established a strategic path for Voxtur's transition to a SaaS-based revenue model. It is an exciting time for the Company, and I am confident in our team's ability to execute."

"What makes Voxtur unique within the property technology landscape is having the only fully digitized, AI-enabled valuation platform in North America, as a result of acquiring Anow in April," said Albertelli. "The platform is rapidly becoming the industry standard with its end-to-end encryption and customizable workflow that delivers valuation data elegantly and in a secure environment. This will allow our clients to move from an outdated PDF-enabled industry standard to a fully digitized platform with three times the speed and efficiency at a fraction of the cost."

Discussion with respect to the above-noted results can be found in the Company's MD&A.

¹ Adjusted EBITDA is an unaudited non-GAAP measure and does not have any standardized meaning prescribed under IFRS and, therefore, may not be comparable to similar measures employed by other reporting issuers. Management believes Adjusted EBITDA provides meaningful information with respect to the financial performance and value of the Company, as items that may obscure the underlying trends in the business performance are excluded. Adjusted EBITDA is defined and calculated by the Company as earnings (loss) before interest, taxes, depreciation/amortization of property and equipment, intangible assets and right-of-use assets, share-based compensation expense, foreign exchange gains (losses) recorded through profit and loss, and other costs or income that are: (i) non-operating; (ii) non-recurring; and/or (iii) are related to strategic initiatives. The Company classifies income or costs as non-recurring if income or costs similar in nature are not reasonably expected to occur within the next two years nor have occurred during the prior two years, and such costs are significant.

Highlights:

- The Company continued to execute on its strategic growth initiatives, announcing the completion of the Anow acquisition on April 8, 2021. Anow, an automated appraisal workflow management platform for the global appraisal market, serves lenders, servicers, appraisers, and appraisal management companies. This strategic acquisition bolstered Voxel's recurring revenue stream and accelerated the development of its proprietary data-ingestion engine.

Subsequent Events to Q2 2021

- On June 9, 2021, the Company announced it had signed a non-binding letter of intent ("LOI") to acquire Benutech, Inc. ("Benutech"), a preeminent source of innovative data solutions and technology applications for real estate professionals. With one of the largest repositories of real-time property data in the United States, Benutech enables title professionals and real estate agents to access real property data from multiple public and private data sources. The acquisition is strategically aligned with the Voxel model of providing user-friendly SaaS tools designed to give real estate finance companies better control of their data.
